

PORTRAITS OF BRITAIN

Enjoy the winning images from the ESRC photographic competition

PUBLIC FAVOURITE ^ WINNER
YOUNG PHOTOGRAPHER
Alex Pollard
When time slows down

◀ PUBLIC SERVICES
WINNER
Asya Gefter
Making a bolt for it

THE COMPETITION

What does social science mean to you and how would you portray the social sciences in one image? This was the challenge of Portraits of Britain - an ESRC photographic competition to celebrate the tenth ESRC Festival of Social Science. The Portraits of Britain awards event and exhibition showcased the winning and commended entries. The winners and commended and shortlisted entries will also be featured on the ESRC website www.esrc.ac.uk

› ENVIRONMENT WINNER

Joshua Lynch
In the balance

‹ YOUNG PHOTOGRAPHER WINNER

Eleanor Bennett
Joy at a rest

YOUNG PHOTOGRAPHER

3RD PRIZE
Ruby Jones
Society's a blur

› YOUNG PHOTOGRAPHER

2ND PRIZE
Hollie Scarsbrook
I shouldn't have bought these chips!

Please turn to pages 94-95 for more winning photographs

PORTRAITS OF BRITAIN

◀ CULTURE, MEDIA AND SPORT WINNER

Hannah Dyson
In training

INTERNATIONAL WINNER ^

Erika Szostak
Street woman, South Beach

◀ SOCIETY WINNER

Bob Aylott
Day trippers

continued from pages 54 and 55

➤ ECONOMY AND BUSINESS
WINNER

Slawek Kozdras
Oxford Street crowd

POLITICS
WINNER ▼

Elizabeth Fraser
Student cuts protest

THE COMPETITION

What does social science mean to you and how would you portray the social sciences in one image? This was the challenge of Portraits of Britain – an ESRC photographic competition to celebrate the tenth ESRC Festival of Social Science. The Portraits of Britain awards event and exhibition showcased the winning and commended entries. The winners and commended and shortlisted entries will also be featured on the ESRC website www.esrc.ac.uk